Dear Members of POP:

We are very pleased to share with you a good news for our journal, “Pacific Journal of Optimization” (PJO). PJO will be in the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE) and Web of Science (WoS) beginning with volume 4, 2008. We believe the reputation of the editorial board and the quality of the published papers have helped to achieve this important step.

As the journal has reached a new level, it is important that we continue to publish high-quality papers. We would like to urge you to submit your research papers to PJO, which is an official journal of the Pacific Optimization Research Activity Group, now having more than 400 members from more than 40 countries. Please go to PJO’s website <http://www.ybook.co.jp/pjo.html> for detailed submission and subscription procedures.

Yours sincerely,
